Message From the CEO

Greetings 4-H Alberta Youth and Families,

It's shaping up to be another outstanding year across 4-H Alberta! Several of our clubs are experiencing record membership numbers this season, and we're thrilled to welcome new clubs joining the 4-H movement across the province. We also recently held an excellent Senior Symposium at a new venue, where we introduced our new Premier's Award winner and welcomed this year's ambassadors. A heartfelt thank you to our outgoing ambassadors for their dedication, and congratulations to Grace Tabler, our new Premier's Award recipient and our many new ambassadors. Your efforts to represent and promote 4-H make a tremendous impact!

Recently, I spoke with an old friend and youth development expert from the sports field who shared insights about the value of 4-H in today's world. Based on recent trends in youth programming, he believes 4-H might be exactly what today's youth need most. He noted a concerning trend: resiliency among youth seems to be declining due to the intense focus many young people place on a single sport. While their dedication is admirable, it can often lead to overuse injuries. When these youth can no longer participate, they often struggle with motivation and identity—an experience I saw all too often in my work in kinesiology with high-level athletes.

In 4-H, our youth engage in more than just one activity; they build resilience through diverse life skills grounded in our key pillars. These skills and experiences promote flexibility, resourcefulness, and a balanced approach to personal growth—qualities essential for navigating life's ups and downs. Likely, the most important element of 4-H is the community that is willing to journey with our youth through these ups and downs.

To introduce these principles to newcomers, we've launched a pilot program called "Intro to 4-H." This program was highlighted in our recent town hall, and the response from our community has been overwhelmingly positive. Many members shared how much the info session helped them understand this project and its importance to the broader 4-H community. If you'd like to learn more, please visit our current Intro Club program.

I look forward to hearing and sharing stories throughout the year on how this incredible program continues to impact our youth and their communities. Here's to another fantastic year for 4-H Alberta!

Best regards,

Kurt Kinnear, CEO, 4-H Alberta

Announcing the 2025 4-H Alberta Premier's Award Winner: Grace Tabler

We are thrilled to announce that Grace Tabler has been selected as the 2025 recipient of the 4-H Alberta Premier's Award—our highest honour for 4-H members! This prestigious award, first introduced by the Honourable E.C. Manning in 1964, recognizes a member who exemplifies leadership, community service, and commitment to 4-H values.

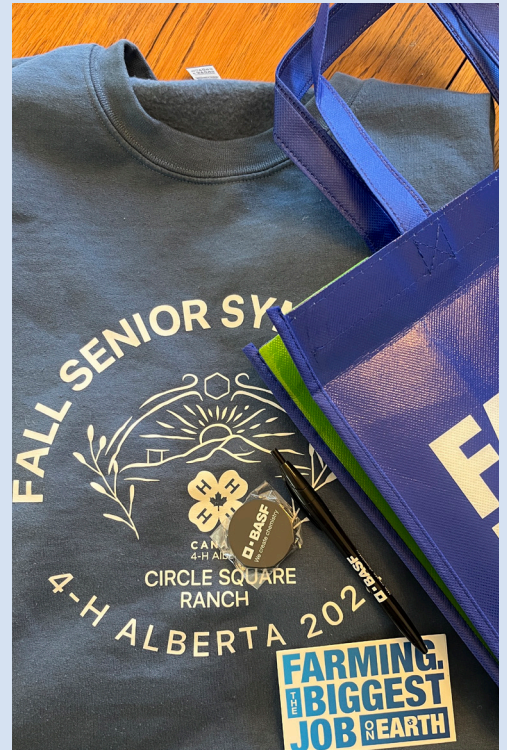

Grace's kindness, passion, and willingness to lend a hand have made her a standout in the 4-H community. Over the next year, she will represent 4-H Alberta at various events and have the privilege of meeting Alberta's Premier and the Minister of Agriculture, Forestry and Rural Economic Development.

Grace Tabler started 4-H at a young age and completed 11 years as a Hay Lakes Multi 4-H Club member. She participated in many life skills projects like cooking, gardening, and her favourite- leadership. She has a passion for helping with the Cleaver project in her club, and this year, she has taken on the role of Cleaver leader. Grace was a West Central Ambassador for the last two years, and in that role, she had the opportunity to attend various 4-H events where she learned a lot and made many connections. Grace currently serves as the Youth Representative on the 4-H Alberta Board of Directors. For the upcoming 4-H year, Grace is excited to continue building connections across the province and hopes to positively impact 4-H youth.

We also extend our deepest thanks to Vanessa Hadwin, the outgoing Premier's Award winner, for her exceptional service over the past year. Vanessa's contributions will leave a lasting legacy as she completes her role at the end of December.

Congratulations, Grace, and thank you, Vanessa, for your dedication and leadership!

Fall Senior Symposium Summary

Another fabulous Fall Senior Symposium has come and gone! We had record numbers this year, with 100 delegates and ten chaperones over the October 18-20 weekend. Senior member delegates and chaperones spent the weekend at the Circle Square Ranch exploring and participating in their many fun activities. The delegates learned about career opportunities in the province, budgeting for post-secondary life, preparing for interviews, and much more.

We want to thank the volunteers for their time over the weekend and our sponsors for helping make the Symposium possible.

Over the past two years, you have made a significant impact on 4-H Alberta, and your contributions have truly been invaluable. You've worked hard in your regions and across the province, embodying the spirit of 4-H by connecting with members, supporting initiatives, and promoting growth in ways that will be felt for years to come.

Your dedication and leadership have not only strengthened our program but also taught us the value of learning through doing. You've set an incredible example, and in doing so, you've helped all of us—staff and members alike—grow alongside you.

We are so grateful for your commitment and hard work. As you move forward from this role, we know you will continue to inspire those around you, just as you've done within the 4-H Alberta community.

SECURE's roots are rural and they are as proud and excited as we are for this opportunity to give back in a meaningful way.

On behalf of our partners at Alberta Beef Producers:

Alberta Beef Producers takes pride in our members' dedication to stewardship. As an organization, we support initiatives that improve the sustainability of our practices. This is beneficial to our image with consumers and government and ensures that we pass on healthier land and communities to the next generation, something that is also integral to 4-H Alberta.

To this end, Alberta Beef Producers has been actively participating in finding a permanent solution to agricultural plastic waste since 2015. We were one of the founding members of the Agricultural Plastics Recycling Group (2016) and are the program administrator of the provincial Recycling Pilot program for twine and grain bags, which has been operating since 2019.

To further enhance awareness and experience with recycling agricultural plastics, particularly with twine, Alberta Beef Producers - with the help of Cleanfarms- is launching 'The Great Twine Round-Up' contest on November 1, 2024. Eligible contestants can Win Big Cash Prizes just by recycling used baler twine.
